Life Group Questions for the week of May 6, 2018

1. Looking back at your notes from this Sunday's message, was there anything that particularly caught your attention, challenged or confused you?
2. Why did (do) the Jews think highly of Moses?
3. We are encouraged to "fix your thoughts on Jesus" in Hebrews 3:1. Read Hebrews 12:1-2 and Colossians 3:1. What are some practical ways to put this into practice? What benefits might you experience?
4. What does it mean, "We are his house" (3:6)? (also see 1 Corinthians 3:16-17.) Have you considered what part God wants you to play in the further building of his house?
5. What does daily encouragement in the faith look like? Why do you think it is important for it to be daily?
6. How would it help if everyone was accountable to another? How much accountability to other Christ-followers have you established in your life? Should there be more?
7. Compare 3:12-14 to 10:24,25. How do our assemblies relate to our exhorting one another? What can we learn about the importance of attendance?
8. How would you describe the connection between unbelief (v. 12 and 19) and disobedience (v. 18)?
9. What can you do to encourage fellow believers whose lives are more characterized by anxiety than by the promised rest they have in Christ?
10. Who do you know that might need some exhortation this week? What are at least two ways you can encourage them in their faith this week?
